

Check out the

Feilding & Districts Community Archive

Tivoli Theatre

Constructed in the 1920s and a victim of arson in the 1960s, the Tivoli was one of two movie theatres in Feilding. It was located on Kimbolton Road [where the Rosebowl now stands]. This image shows the theatre dressed in lights for the 1953 coronation. The adjacent milk bar was a popular hang out for many.

This is just one of the 60,000+ records available for you to research and view at the Archive.

Open 10am to 4pm Thursdays

.. and other days by arrangement

Find out more about us
www.feildingarchive.org

Coach House Museum
121 South Street
Feilding 4702

archives@feildingarchive.org