A 2009.216.18.07 Newspaper	2 copies(2009.216.18.07 and 08) of the Feilding Herald for 28 June 1979. On page 8 is an article about Carthew's Bookshop, who celebrated 100 years in business in 1979.  Carthew's was unique in New Zealand for being the only bookshop to have remained in the same family for four generations. Founder William Carthew passed the business on to his son William Edward; they also both served the district as Mayor. Lewis Carthew took on the business from W E Carthew, and in turn (William) Brent took over from father Lewis.	Fair	OK	Feilding & Districts Community Archive
A 2009.216.18.09 Newspaper	Carthew's Bookshop celebrated its Centennial year in 1979, beginning with a Centennial sale. The staff dressed appropriately in Victorian dress for the first day of the sale(23 March), and were kept busy from the time the doors opened with over 1000 people purchasing goods. The shop was still open at 8.30pm, having opened the doors at 8.30am.	Fair	OK	Feilding & Districts Community Archive

Mountfort has written explanations for some of his calculations. Included in this diary Mountfort has a computation of Taikoria Trig Station on the old Rangitikei Meridian, and the Ashhurst Bunnythorpe Road. A detail of a test of 4 chain for sag done with a spring balance. There is also a hand-written letter from Mountfort to a T.G. Elliott, written from Feilding in 1932, concerning traverse books of Napier done by Mountfort and given to a draughtsman, who then took them to Auckland and "lost" them. From the tone of the letter it seems that Mountfort is the one being accused of "losing" the books. The letter is signed by Mountfort.

Also copies of 4 letters by Charles Mountfort, all written from Feilding, 2 to the Chief Surveyor, James Mackenzie. The first letter in December 1900 accompanies "sheets showing comparison of the three Trig meridians at Wellington". There is mention of other surveyors' work comparing favourably with his calculations. The second letter(July 1912) to James Mackenzie, now Surveyor General for New Zealand, refers to Charles Mountfort's work checking the survey by a Mr Jackson of trigs in Wellington. The 3rd letter is written on 20th March 1927, referring to the new Oroua scheme settling reservoirs. The letter appears to have been written to the Feilding Borough Council, and refers to his thoughts on the magnitude of the Oroua scheme which is too costly for a small town to undertake. Mountfort mentions his thoughts that a less costly scheme "close by with practically no engineering difficulties" would have been better.	Fair	OK	Feilding & Districts Community Archive
